BROTHERHOOD CHIEFS MEET AT WEEK-END IN WASHINGTON

Santa Fe Shop Men Ready To Strike If Congress Injects Anti-Strike Legislation Into Cummins Law—Are Not Opposed To Return Of Roads To Owners March 1

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. — Railroad employees will press their demands for increased wages before the railroad owners. It was announced today, that the chiefs of the four railroad brotherhoods have been called to Washington to meet tomorrow or Sunday with the heads of the railroad unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. At this conference it is said that some action will be taken to force wage increases before the roads are returned March 1.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 26. — "It's all news to me," said Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers, today when told of a report from Washington that the railroad men will press their wage demands before the roads are returned to private ownership.

"I have not been advised of anything in Washington and have no present plans for going there to discuss such action."

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 26. — A direct threat that the 600,000 railroad union workers, members of six railway shop trades, will go on strike if congress includes an anti-strike clause in legislation providing for the return of the railroads to private owners on March 1, is made here by W. S. Patterson, secretary treasurer of the International Machinists Union of the Santa Fe railway. Patterson says that while he has no authority to call a strike, he represents "fully the sentiment of the men."

Patterson's statement follows:

"Six shop crafts, representing about 600,000 men, have voted to strike if congress enacts a railroad law containing an anti-strike clause. While I am not speaking for other railroad unions, it is known that several in addition to the shop organizations, have taken similar action."

"The main committee of the six shop crafts are empowered to call a strike of their members upon the passage of the anti-strike legislation."

"Under no circumstances will we agree to any compromise looking toward the sacrifices of the rights of our members to strike in case such action becomes necessary."

"This must not be confused with the idea advocated some time ago that the railroad men would strike, in order to prevent the return of the railroads to their owners, as nothing of the kind is contemplated."

"We are opposing the return of the roads to private control more on account of the effect it will have upon us and the rest of the public as consumers, such action necessitating, so it is claimed, an increase in freight rates and consequent rise in the price of coal."

"In other words, so far as our rights as workers are concerned, if we are going to have the fight we believe our chances for victory would be better with corporate management than would be the case under federal control."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. — Conference working on the Cummins and Esch bills for return of the railroads today stated that their biggest difficulty would be found in the labor provisions of the bill. The anti-strike provisions of the Cummins bill, making strikes unlawful, is not agreeable to the public, and the senate conferees are agreed to stand firmly for the Cummins bill.

Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin, has offered a compromise measure, which may aid in solving the problems. Under the terms of Senator Lenroot's proposal any railroad employees, who failed to abide by the decisions of the wage adjustment board would be subjected to a black list and would be forbidden employment on any railroad for a period of four months.

Proposals have been made for changes in the personnel of the wage adjustment board, provided by the Cummins bill. It is proposed to change the composition of this board to insure that neither employers or employees have the balance of power, but that the majority of persons on the board should be chosen as representatives of the public.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water. It has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcline in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

6 BELL'S Hot Water Sure Relief

BELL'S FOR INDIGESTION

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with coated tongue, foul breath or a dull headache, or if your meals sour and ferment, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to headaches, backaches, bilious attacks, constipation or stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying the morning inside bath.

Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

DARING JAIL DELIVERY AT TOLEDO XMAS

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 26.—Four men, all said by police to be desperate and notorious characters, who were liberated from the Lucasco jail in a Christmas day jail delivery, are still at large.

Leo Noonan, deputy sheriff, shot by one of the six men who engineered the delivery, is in a serious condition. Deputy Sheriffs Basso and Kelley were locked in cells by the six jail raiders and Sheriff John Mathias attracted by the shot which wounded Noonan, was thrown into the jail dungeon when he made his appearance at the jail clad in a bathrobe.

Mathias owes his life to the intervention of one of the liberated prisoners, a member of the gang of jail raiders insisting on "rocking him off."

The four men liberated are E. E. West, alias Edward Meehan, Albert Leach, Leo Mitchell and Frank E. Howard. All have long criminal records, the police say, and from three to a dozen aliases. West was under arrest for manslaughter, Leach was charged with robbery, Mitchell was charged with carrying concealed weapons and Howard with shooting with intent to kill.

The jail delivery, one of the most daring ever pulled, was staged with a simplicity and ease that startled officials.

One of the band of six came to the jail office door and after wishing three deputies in the office "Merry Xmas," asked to be admitted. When the door was opened the deputies found themselves looking into a muzzle of a revolver. Noonan attempted to pull his gun and was shot through the breast. The shot was the signal for the appearance of five more men who quickly threw the two unwounded deputies into cells. They then proceeded on a systematic search of the jail to secure the four men they wanted to set free. When Sheriff Mathias appeared he was very quickly overpowered by two lookouts.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 26.—Governor Cox handed the Christmas pardon to Amiziah Webb, 59, serving a life sentence at the Ohio penitentiary. Webb was sent up from Portsmouth 12 years ago. He killed his sister-in-law when she insisted upon having her husband, Webb's brother, arrested. For the past seven and a half years Webb has been a trusty at the penitentiary. Last year his mother was sick and Warren Thomas let him go to his home unaccompanied. "I'd trust old Webb any place in the world with anything," Thomas said today. "I'm glad he got the pardon."

EARLE'S HYPO-COD STOPPED HIS COLD AND BUILT HIM UP

"I Had Such an Awful Cold and Cough I could Hardly Breathe. Was All In."

COULD NOT SLEEP KIDNEYS WERE TOO

"This new and wonderful medicine they call Earle's Hypo-Cod is all right, declared a man whose name and address follows:

"I had such an awful cold I would cough and bark half the night and could not sleep. My appetite gave out on me and I was nearly down and out. I could hardly breathe my lungs hurt so bad at times and I was having a bad time with my kidneys too. Would have to get up seven or eight times in the night and suffered with severe pains and burning sensations. All these troubles are gone now, however, and I'm praising Earle's Hypo-Cod to the sky. It does do the work in getting around that fact. I breathe freely now. My lungs don't hurt. My sleep is peaceful as you please and I feel my appetite is much better also. It helped me wonderfully and there is no reason why it shouldn't because the ingredients tell anybody who can read that it is the real thing," continued Mr. J. K. Leake, 62 Sounder Ave., Columbus, O., and a well-known carpenter with the Latham Contracting Co. of that city.

If weak, full of cold, catarrh, or bronchial troubles, or feeling like the man above, go right down to the drug store for a large bottle of Earle's Hypo-Cod which has received the endorsement of doctors, druggists, chemists, nurses and thousands of users. Read the formula on the bottle.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by Wimmer and Arnold Co., and the leading druggists in all nearby towns. Price $1.25 plus 5c war tax.

LICKING COUNTY FARMER, AGE 61 FEELS 21 AGAIN

Dreco Got His Stomach in Fine Condition by Relieving Gastritis and Indigestion.

"I kept reading what my neighbors said about Dreco, and some of their cases fit mine exactly, so I decided to try it also," says Mrs. C. A. Harrison, a prosperous farmer, near Newway, Licking Co., O.

"I had tried many remedies for rheumatism, but none seemed to do me any good, for mine was a pretty bad case. While I had pains all over my body, my ankles bothered me worse. They would swell up and cause intense suffering.

"My stomach got in bad shape from taking so much strong medicine for the rheumatism, and if I'd eat a good meal, I'd pay for it later with pains, gastritis, nausea, and puffed-up feeling.

"One day while in Columbus, I got some Dreco, and I want to say today that all the rheumatism is gone. My ankles are entirely free from pain, the stiffness had left my joints, and my muscles are no longer hard and drawn. I am 61 years old, but feel like a youngster again, thanks to the grand medicine, Dreco."

If you have been fighting stomach troubles, dyspepsia, indigestion, headaches, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, constipation, liver and kidney trouble, catarrh, or that dreadful scourge, rheumatism, you should try the new preparation, Dreco, and you are then on the road to recovery. The action of this remedy is just as certain on the human system as that the morning follows the night. That this is proven conclusively, it is only necessary to listen to the statements of the steady stream of grateful people who daily make their statements to the Dreco Man.

All good druggists now sell Dreco, and it is highly recommended in Coshocton by Page & Lorenz.

COUNSEL FOR NEW WINS AN ADDED POINT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 26.—Counsel for Harry S. New, Jr., offering deposition after deposition intercepted with witnesses, amassed further strength for the insanity plea as a defense, when the trial was resumed before Judge Craig today.

With the prosecutions star witness discredited New's attorneys went into court today confident of offering final proof of their client's irresponsibility. Their heavy web of congenital insanity superinduced and provoked by the constant and depressing circumstances of his illegitimate birth is unassailable by the state, LeCompte Davis, chief counsel for New, today declared.

Five alienists who have examined New were on hand when court opened today prepared to testify that the defendant is insane, which insanity at times becomes pronounced, that he during stress of high emotion or adverse circumstances becomes unaccountable for his acts and does not realize between right and wrong.

Builds Rich, Red Blood—Creates Natural Attractiveness—Pleasant to Taste

The pale, nervous, always-tired type of young business woman is a liability both to herself and to her employer.

How the bright, laughing, energetic type of girl is admitted in business, her sunny disposition, enthusiasm and general efficiency combine to make her a valuable asset to her employer.

If the girl with the continually listless, tired, and worn-out feeling would only realize that such a condition is probably caused by poor, impoverished blood which can be easily improved, how much happier she would be!

After taking Pepto-Mangan for a short time, the cheeks regain the wholesome, rosy complexion, the eyes sparkle, the step quickens, the entire system is filled with new vitality and energy.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Both are of the same medicinal value.

"Gude's" is the genuine Pepto-Mangan. If "Gude's" is not on the package, it is not Pepto-Mangan.

DISPOSITION OF CONSTANTINOPLE BEFORE ALLIES

PARIS, Dec. 26.—The fate of Constantinople is expected to be decided by the Anglo-French conferences that are in progress in London this week, it was reported today. The conferences are being watched with the utmost interest in Paris.

France is represented by General Berthel, director of political affairs, and it has been reported in some quarters that he might endorse Premier Lloyd George's view that the Turks should be expelled from Europe. This belief, however, is not universal.

A large element of French opinion is expressed by an article in the Echo de Paris, which advances the view that the Turks have been fully punished by the loss of Syria, Arabia and Mesopotamia and that the allies could take sufficient precautions to control the Dardanelles without taking Constantinople away from them.

There is still a third element of opinion. For the belief exists in some quarters that the expulsion of the Turks from Europe and the settling up of some sort of new government or ephemeral league would invite assault by the Russians. The French are counselling the English to beware of an action which might have unfavorable effects on the Mussulman fanatics in India, and Egypt.

LADY DRUGGIST'S ADVICE TAKEN

"My sister-in-law is a druggist. She told me of several bad stomach and liver cases which were benefited by taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and advised me to try it. I had numerous bad attacks due to bloating and had almost constant pain in my stomach before getting your remedy. I am feeling fine now." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Sold by Wimmer-Arnold Co., and druggists everywhere.

UGLY SKIN MADE CLEAR, VELVETY BY THIS SULPHUR

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to equal Menthosulphur for the restoring of ugly, broken out skin, says a noted skin specialist. "This special sulphur preparation will soothe and heal itching, burning skin that is broken out with eruptions, rash or pimples. Even fiery eczema is subdued instantly, leaving the skin clear, smooth and soft. You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows.

In every case, Menthosulphur quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals eczema right up. All good druggists recommend Menthosulphur, and you can obtain about two ounces for a few cents. Use it like a cold cream.

MR. BURLESON AGAIN

In one of its issues last week The New York Call published a letter from the assistant postmaster of that city barring The Call from second-class mailing privileges during the life of the espionage act. The letter which follows, was carefully and clearly worded:

You are informed that the New York Call, application for entry of which as second-class matter was made by the publisher on Jan. 9, 1919, is denied admission to the second class of mail matter because it appears from the evidence in possession of the department that the publication is not a "newspaper or other periodical publication" within the meaning of the law governing mailable matter of the second class, it being in conflict with the act of June 15, 1917, the espionage act as amended by the act of May 16, 1918, as well as Section 211 of the penal code as amended.

The New York Times, which we believe is the ablest of the reactionary papers of the country, but which itself would vehemently deny being reactionary, takes issue with Postmaster Burleson on this ruling.

"The Call," says The Times, "has always been what it is now—a class organ that backs every socialistic movement with a hot vehemence that leads it to emphasize one aspect of the facts. It takes an astigmatic view of social conditions, and its news is colored to suit its philosophy. But because of its zeal for a cause it has made interesting disclosures and needed protests. And to refuse it the definition of a "newspaper or other periodical publication" is shamelessly to ignore the truth.

"The Call is a newspaper and one for which there is a demand. If the postoffice has the right under the espionage or any other law to define newspapers out of existence, the law that gives that right should be repealed with haste. In all probability Mr. Burleson is overstepping his legal powers in this case. Whether or not his position can be sustained we shall only know after the matter has been dissected in the courts.

"But, legal or not, his position as unconditional arbiter of what we may or may not say, only escapes being ridiculous by being a serious challenge to our ancestral liberties. Neither Mr. Burleson nor any of his underlings nor any other government official can govern or direct the press of the United States. It will not be borne.

"A publisher deserves his day in court and his trial by jury. The rights we have not denied our commonest criminals should not be withheld from citizens who have committed no other crime than the utterance of their convictions."

The point The Times makes to the effect that a newspaper charged either with a civil or a criminal offense, is entitled to its day in court, is well taken. It is not conceivable that anyone outside of a Burleson-ruled governmental department would even attempt to deny this time-honored right to any American citizen.

The trouble with Mr. Burleson is that the war has got on his nerves. He has led himself to believe that the entire burden of government, civil and military, executive and judicial, rests on his shoulders. He is assuming as among his duties, those that have vested since the beginning of the government, in other and widely separated departments. His exaggerated ideas of his own importance have more than once embarrassed the president, cabinet and entire administration.

He has been by far the heaviest burden the Wilson regime has had to carry and there is no doubt but that the Democratic party would have

COLUMBUS MAY GET HOSPITAL

COLUMBUS, Dec. 26.—Plans for the establishment of a large service hospital in Ohio by the United States public health service is the report reaching here from Washington, which also says that Columbus is favored for the location, providing only Ohio men are to receive treatment. If Ohio and Kentucky men are to receive treatment in the same hospital, Cincinnati will be considered.

Secretary of the Treasury Glass has sent to the house of representatives a request for a blanket appropriation of $85,000,000 to establish hospitals in the various states for the care and treatment of incapacitated soldiers, sailors and marines. Treatment would be provided for the men as near their homes as possible.

"A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM"

STEUBENVILLE, O., Dec. 26.—When a squad of Veitron, W. Va., police went to the home of Robert Tepovich to investigate an alleged shooting scrape, they were met at the door by Mary Tepovich, aged 19 years, who implored them to arrest the man who sold her father liquor instead of arresting her father. The girl agreed to show them the place and she led the officers several blocks to the home of George Socozwicz. "There's the place," the little girl told the police. They raided the house and found Socozwicz engaged in making whiskey with a large sized still. Socozwicz was arrested and his still and raisin jack to the extent of over 200 gallons were confiscated. Socozwicz is held for the federal grand jury.

THE NORTHERN STATES HAVE ADOPTED THE 56" AUTO-TRACK WAGON

Weber Too Low— or Others Too High?
How Best to Determine Correctness of Price Asked

EITHER the price of the Weber standard-ized auto-track wagon is away too low or else the prices of other wagons are away too high. You can figure it out for yourself by comparison.

For instance, examine some well-known wagon that sells for practically the same price as the Weber and note carefully the ironing of the gears and the distinctive features — if they have any.

Now come over and see us and let us show you the Weber. Compare this wagon, point for point, and size of each piece of wood stock, with the other fellow's product. Note the ironing of the Weber gears — and hear in mind how cheap the other fellow's wagon gears looked in comparison. Note the Weber swivel-reach-coupling that takes all twisting strain off the gears and brakes — and don't forget that this feature was entirely lacking on the other fellow's wagon. Note the Weber Fifth-Wheel that distributes the strain on the front bolster, prevents it from rocking and reduces to a minimum whipping of the tongue, etc. — and don't forget that this feature, too, was altogether lacking on the other fellow's wagon.

A difference of $11.50 to $18.00 in favor of the Weber is apparent nearly always.

Now then — answer to your own satisfaction the question of whether the price of the Weber with strictly A-grade wheels with high carbon tire, is too low or the prices of other wagons too high, considering quality. And remember — we sell Weber Auto-Track Wagons — the "King of all Farm Wagons."

WORLD'S LARGEST FARM AGENCY

Over Sixteen Thousand Sales prove right methods, in our Nineteen Years selling farms.

We maintain large general offices in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit, Minneapolis, Omaha, Kansas City, and Jacksonville for the convenience of farm seekers.

The past year we sold $7,840,668.00 worth of country real estate (241,750 acres) as a result of which approximately 20,000 people changed their place of residence, to their own satisfaction and profit.

It is easy for us to sell farms because we have a nation wide reputation for value-giving and square dealing that makes selling a comparatively easy proposition for us.

Our money and our service form an irresistible combination that invariably does the work. And don't lose sight of this all-important fact:

WE USE OUR MONEY TO FIND A BUYER FOR YOUR FARM.

We advertise in thousands of newspapers, farm papers and magazines. We have at all times in our files the names of over 100,000 prospective farm buyers.

NO EXCLUSIVE LISTINGS

Our method of doing business is based upon fairness and justice. We do not believe in owner's listing their farms exclusively with only one agent, for the reason that we do not consider it fair to an owner that the sale of his property should be tied up with any one agent. We have the best farm-selling plan in existence. This plan does not obligate you in any way, whatever, when you list your farm with us, nor at any future time, unless we effect a sale in which event the commission for our services comes to us as agreed upon when your property is listed with our agency.

OUR TERMS

We make no charges for listing, advertising or withdrawing. If we do not make a sale, there is absolutely no expense to you. You pay us no fees of any kind unless we sell your farm. Further more you are at liberty to sell the farm yourself, to employ other agents, to sell it, or to withdraw it from our agency, you would owe us nothing in either case.

WE ARE ENTITLED TO OUR COMMISSION ONLY WHEN THE SALE IS MADE TO A CUSTOMER FURNISHED BY US.

If you want to sell your farm, write today for full information to:

Worthless Without Moral Sense.

Men must learn to discriminate, and that implies a moral sense and an enlightened and disciplined will. Without them failure in the business of life is certain. Masterful natures without moral sense, or, if they have it, disobedient to it, are always weak natures. History gives the record of many such. They are profitable for "instruction in righteousness."

Exercised Discretion.

Richard, on his first visit to the country, climbed the fence into the field where a Jersey cow was grazing. The cow, being somewhat of a pet, greeted him with a loud and joyous moo, whereupon Richard beat a hasty and disorderly retreat. "No, I wasn't cozily a-moo," he explained; "but when she kept saying, 'Move, move,' I thought I'd better keep a-movin'!"

DAWN

By JACK LAWTON

(Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union)
Jerome Barris in the hour of his great success was but a disillusioned, disappointed man. Still young, and having won the golden key to favor, he drew back wearily before those doors it might open.

During his years of struggle and need none of these friends, who now so eagerly strove to share his triumph, had made an effort to stretch forth a helping hand. Even the girl whom he had so deeply loved and who had progressed to return his love had grown weary waiting and had heartlessly flitted him for an acknowledged man of the business world.

Now that the dream of Jerome Barris was realized he smiled cynically at this same woman's proffered notes of reconciliation—his former love had become a widow, but her charm for him had vanished before her insincerity, and all this superficial adulation now wearied him. He longed to get away from it, to get back to a certain spot which had often been his refuge.

To Barris this small place, with the sea stretching out before, was home, his one sure haven.

It was here that his great picture was born—the picture which had won for him fame and fortune. Years ago, when his heart was sore with its disappointment, he had gone, after reading the announcement of the one girl's marriage, to the seclusion of this little house, there to shut out from curious eyes his deep hurt. And when at sundown he sat upon the tiny porch a boat had come drifting down a golden beam toward him. And in the boat sat a very young girl. Unbound, her golden hair rippled over her shoulders, and her upraised face was glorified in the light. Barris called his great picture "Maidenhood."

Impulsively he had called her as she drifted by, and had run down to draw her boat in to the shore. The girl, who was perhaps fourteen or fifteen years of age, acceded readily to his request that she pose thus again for a picture. "I'll make the arrangement with your people," Barris suggested.

"I have no people," the girl told him, and as she went on with the strange story of her own life he knew what had brought the shadow to her young eyes. She had been washed to the shore in a boat tossed upon a stormy sea before she was old enough to remember anything about it. A man and woman found drowned later were thought to have been her parents, but she had never known. A fisherman finding the child carried her to his wife who had befriended her, until as the girl grew and the wife became an invalid the charge was transferred.

They called her "Dawn," the girl told him blushing, because it had been at dawn that the fisherman found her.

And as days passed and Dawn came to pose for the artist he learned more and more of the hard incongruity of a young life which longed for great things and must be satisfied with common duties. Dawn's heart was full of music and her mind yearned for knowledge.

When upon his return later from the city Barris learned from his old housekeeper that Dawn's invalid charge had died he sent at once for the girl and bade her make her home in his house on the shore, arranging passage for her to and from a school in the adjoining village and finding her a music teacher there. Then in the absorbing occupation of his city studio the artist forgot about the little girl, who never ceased to think of him with reverent adoration.

Barris, long absent from the house by the sea, sought it out again after one of his trips abroad and learned from the old housekeeper that his protegee had secured a position as teacher in a nearby village and left word that he would hear from her later.

The artist smiled and frowned. "She should have allowed me to complete her education," he said. Then his pleased eyes fell upon the inviting furnishing of his beloved old room.

"You keep the place up well," he commended his housekeeper.

"That's Dawn," the woman replied; "she comes out here and sees that things is all new an' convenient. 'We must keep it home-fer him,' she says."

After that came to the artist regularly small checks in the name of the village bank, with notes in a girlish hand.

"Of course I can never repay what you have done for me," wrote Dawn. "This is just to assure myself that I would if I could."

And at length, wearied by labor and surfeited with flattering attentions, came to Barris a longing wish for the restful house by the shore. And when he reached it at sundown, sailing again across the golden water toward him, came the girl who had made his great picture. Standing on the sands at her side he told her so.

"You speak of repaying your debt to me," said Barris. "My dear girl! do you realize that it is I who am indebted to you?—for my success, for the very comfort of home, for a belief in truth and goodness which had almost forsaken me? Why, you have given to me every good gift—save happiness."

"And I wish I might give you that," said Dawn.

"I hope—I believe—that you will," Barris answered softly, and they looked into each other's eyes.

Filipino Proverbs.

There is a certain dignity in many of the proverbs native to the Philippine islands. "A hero is braver for his wounds," the Filipinos say. "The quality of gold is known by rubbing it against a stone." "He who despises counsel is on the way to misfortune." "Whoever believes everything that is said has no mind of his own." In some there is gentle humor. "A sleeping shrimp is carried away by the current." "A fish is caught by the mouth." "If you sleep, brother, the crocodile will eat you up."

Carnegie "Hero Fund."

In April, 1904, Andrew Carnegie established a hero fund of $5,000,000 for the benefit of the dependents of those losing their lives in heroic efforts to save others, or for the heroes themselves, surviving though injured. The endowment is known as the Carnegie hero fund and is placed in the hands of a committee composed of 21 persons, residents of Pittsburgh.

"Knocked Into a Cocked Hat."

The meaning of this expression is not generally known. "Cocked hat" was a variety of the game of tennis, in which only three were used, set up at angles of a triangle. When, in bowling at tennis, all were knocked down except the three at the corner, the set was said to be "knocked into a cocked hat."

Chinese Love Horses.

China is one of the last of the nations of the world to adopt and enjoy the motorcar. Indeed, the conservative Chinese shrink from anything that seems to cast any aspersions upon horses, for equines have played a big part in tradition, history and the life of that mysterious land in the far East.

Hog Island.

Hog Island was a swamp of waste land when the great war came. The name has been attached to it since early days when it was occupied by Indians, but the exact reason for its naming is obscure.
